Prayer Coordinator
Dr. B.L. Worsham

“And the Spirit and the bride say,
Come. And let him that heareth say,
Come. And let him that is athirst come.
And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Revelation 22:17).

Here we have our Lord’s final invitation to man! The Holy Spirit is pulling at the sinner’s heartstrings; once again, before the close of salvation; the loving voice of Jesus calls: come. Thirsty soul, come. Thousands of times over; the Bible holds some two thousand instances where our Savior calls, “Come unto Me.” Gospel preachers have closed untold numbers of worship services, crying out: come to Jesus! Jesus saves.

After the singing, following the preaching, the promises, comes the invitation: one day your final call; the Holy Spirit’s last supplication; your final invitation to know God’s grace. Today heaven’s doorway still stands ajar. Today the Holy Spirit still whispers, sinner, pray and surrender to Jesus Christ. While the singer testifies, “Ye who are weary, come home.” The altar stand’s open and waiting; and yes, there’s still room for you. In every way, Jesus is calling, your name; your soul; your salvation.

Come now, the ear of God is open today, come and pray. The signs of Christ’s return are all around. Soon the trumpet of God will sound. Soon the voice of the archangel will be heard. In the twinkling of an eye ... the rapture. And the church is gone. Gone to meet Jesus. The end of time has occurred. The time of judgment has begun.

Yet there is time, now. There is time to pray, now. “The Spirit and the bride say, Come” (Revelation 22:17). Let whosoever come. My friend, pray.
