Haven't You Any Fish?

Wes Freeman, Moderator

John 21:1-9 records an encounter of the disciples with Jesus shortly after His resurrection. Several of the disciples had decided to go fishing one evening, but after a long night, they caught nothing. As they approached the shoreline, Jesus was there and called out to them, asking, "Haven't you any fish?" He then instructed them to throw their nets on the other side of the boat. They did and caught a great many fish that morning.

Jesus said that He came to offer each of us "life to the full." Like the disciples, we strive and toil all night long. We work hard to advance in our careers, raise a family, and stay faithful to God. Yet, at times, we don't experience the peace, fulfillment, and abundance He offers. The disciples experienced the abundance of God that morning. One simple instruction from Jesus made all the difference.

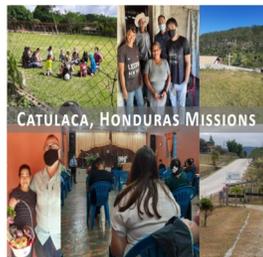

Hearing from God is an essential factor in experiencing life to the full. In verse four, we discover that the disciples did not realize it was Jesus telling them to throw their nets on the other side. How frustrated the disciples must have felt—many of whom were professional fishermen—after a long night of fruitless fishing, to hear some strange guy telling them to simply cast their nets on the other side of the boat. Imagine how incredibly humbling it must have been. Yet they followed this silly instruction and were greatly rewarded. After all they had just been through, they were prepared to hear God in any way He saw fit.

Sometimes God uses people we are most frustrated with to speak to us. Think about someone you are currently frustrated with, annoyed by, or frankly upset at. Consider this for a moment: what if God is trying to speak something life-changing to you through that person? It may not necessarily be advice that person has, but simply God trying to teach something to you through your experience with them. Are you prepared to hear God through them? Ask God to open your heart to what He wants to speak to you or teach you through that person. Remember, one simple instruction from Jesus can make all the difference.

Senior Life Day Trip Texas Prison Museum & Hospitality House , Huntsville TX

August 8, 2025 (Friday)

The trip costs $7 plus lunch at Benny J's BBQ. The bus departs SJBA (1020 Birdsong Dr.) at 8:30 am and returns approximately 4:30 pm.

The Texas Prison Museum offers a glimpse into the lives of the state's imprisoned citizens. The museum features exhibits detailing the history of the Texas prison system, featuring a look inside the operations behind the fences.

Hospitality House ministers to the physical and spiritual needs of families of prisoners incarcerated in the penal system of the state of Texas. These families are the "other victims of crime."
