Passion week is here and often we forget about Thursday. Observing Maundy Thursday deepens our appreciation for Christ's servant leadership and the institution of the Lord's Supper.

On this night, Jesus washed His disciples' feet, calling them to humble service, and shared the bread and cup, commissioning them to remember His sacrifice. Remembering Maundy Thursday helps us center worship on grace—Christ's commandment to love one another—and on covenantal remembrance that points forward to Good Friday and the resurrection. Thoughtful observance cultivates spiritual disciplines: confession, communal prayer, and sober reflection on the cost of redemption. It is an occasion for pastors to preach about humility, sacrificial love, and ecclesial unity while allowing congregations to participate in Communion with renewed reverence. Families and small groups may practice foot washing, Scripture reading, and silence to model servanthood and dependence on Christ.

It prepares us for Sunday where Easter anchors our hope in the risen Christ. The tomb is empty, death defeated, and God's promise fulfilled. In Christ's resurrection we find forgiveness, new life, and assurance of eternity with our Savior.

Baptist Student Ministry

Tina Wash, Director

The Spring Semester is rushing toward its final five weeks of classes, followed by recognitions of success, final exams, celebrations, award ceremonies, graduation, and plans for the future! (Just to mention a few)

I definitely want to celebrate the way God blessed the BSM this school year - inspiring and leading students to learn more of the Bible, to renew their desire to return to church and to strengthen the faith some had lost, or at least misplaced. Please pray for their continued commitment.

I also want to celebrate a faculty and staff who involved the BSM in their events and encouraged students to participate. And we all celebrate the SJBA and churches who fed us so well all year! Thank You.
